Another financial operation was discovered on Priday, emanating from the individual who got the check, purporting to have been drawn by Very & Gwyn, brokers in Wallet, for $6,000, on the Contiternoon a German girl about 18 years of age, who gave her name as Mury Ann Stefer, was brought to the Second Ward Station-House by two men, who found her in Wyckoff's woods. The girl, who is friencless and was looking for work, states that four young men dragged her into the woods from the road, the four beautiful to the state of the road of the state of pental Bank, and duly indorsed by the teller, was deposited in the Chemical Bank to the credit of this mysterious financier. In the course of the next day, the check came back from the Chemical, and the and after forcing her to drink some liquor from a bot-tle, committed an outrage upon her person and then left her lying upon the ground, where she was subse-quently found. book-keeper of the Continental was about charging it to the ostensible drawers, when he suspected the signatures of the drawers, and the fler made inquiry and found them to forgeries. During Saturday night and yesterday the police of this city errested twenty-six persons charged with being drunk, disorderly, &c., &c. But $9,000 in all was paid out by the Chemical, and unless some of the five bundred dollar bills should head to the detection of the rogue, there is little chance of his capture. The man had been occasion-ture. These good checks were also deposited in the Chemical Bank. STILL ANOTHER CASE.

A few days ago Messrs. Aymar & Co. of South-st. received a remittance from their Baltimore correspendents under the following circumstances. The Baltimore house had received a letter from this City stating that the writer was a stranger from the West Indice, and had a ship with a valuable cargo on the way, which he had consigned to them. He inclosed letters of recommendation or of credit, and also sterling bills to a considerable amount requesting the house to sell the bills and remit the proceeds to him, stating that he was quite sick, and unable to come on himself. The house did sell the bills, but instead of remitting directly to the writer, they sent the money to Aymar & Co., at the same time stating the circumstonces, and sending another note to the stranger, requesting him to call on Aymer & Co. for his funds Thus far the gentleman has not made his appearance, and the money is unclaimed. Of course, the presumption is, that the whole affair is a for cry, letter of credit, hills and all, though the bills have not yet been heard from-

Some persons think that all these audacious operatiens are the work of the notorious forger Webb, who recently completed a course of discipline in the State Prizon, and is now at large.

THE HARLEM FRAUDS-MR. KYLE'S DEFENSE.

Alex. Kyle, Jr., Secretary of the Harlem Railroad Company, has filed in the Superior Court, an affidavit in answer to the charges of fraud made against him. He avers that the means for the purchase of the lot and erection of his house in Thirty-first-st. were in no way derived from the filling up of blank certifi-cates of the stock of the Company, or the sale there-of. Fortner he denies that he applied the proceeds of of. Further he defines that he appaid the proceeds of the sale of any stock sold or assigned by him to the purchase of any real or personal estate, of which he is now or has hereigiers been in possession; but he says and is prepared to prove this he applied the purches of the sale of stock associably him, as is clarged in the said all of complaint, to the payment of losses sustained by pain in the processes and all of stock in Wallest, as well as to solvence in such made by his of stock in Wallest. certains further above the assigned to said Company a balance due to defendant from said Company, amounting to beaut $1,000. Mr. Benerdin, first mate of the ship Minna Schaffer of this port, was examined on a complaint preferred by Pefer Johnson, second mate, of assault and stabing on the 15th of August, during the voyage of the ship from Galveston to New-York. Johnson teatified that the first mate struck him, and closed one of his eyes, then seized a carving knife and cut him in the bead, after which he drew Johnson's sheath knife and stabled latter in the breast. The captain parted them, when the first mate attempted to seize a bammer and site an iron winch-bandie, but the captain took them from him. The steward of the vessel testified that the first mate gave some order to the second mate in regard to the sails, when the latter (who is a German,) asked him to repeat the direction, as he did not anderstand English very well. The second mate subsequently said if the captain told him he would obey him Kee, heard afterward the first mate tell the second mate to take off his sheath-knife, which he refused to do. A sort of rough and-tumble fight then commenced. The first mate was under, when he enzed a chopping-limfe and made an attempt to strike the second mate, who at the time had him by the Beck, there was no carving-knife on deck; the captain finally parted them, when the winess saw a thenth knife on the wones saw a thenth knife on the wones of the sheath knife on the wones of the captain finally parted them, when the winess saw a thenth knife on the wones of the sheath knife on the know from whom. The tain finally parted them, when the wriness saw a sheath knife full; do not know from whom. The counsel for defence contended that the first mate was legally justified in what he did. GEORGE LAW AND HIS MUSKETS -- The Courrier des Etats Unis states that these celebrated muskets have been re-shipped on the bark Catherine Augusta, now lying at one of the North River docks, near Canal-st. The same vessel has taken on board a considerable quantity of powder and a supply of coal. The screw-steamer Franklin has also been purchased for $60,000 by the parties concerned in the Catherine Augusta, and is now undergoing changes in a Greenpoint ship yard, to fit her for a vessel of war. As seen as these changes are completed, the two vessels are to sail on the secret expedition, for which they are intended-probably to some point on the Mexican coast-some say Tampico. The connection of Mr. George Law and his muskets with this expedition has not yet transpired.

LAYING THE CORNER-STONE OF A RO-MAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN HOBO-

Yesterday afternoon the above ceremonies took place at the new Roman Catholic Church, the first ever creeted in Hoboken. The building, which is of brick, and in the Gothic style, stands on an open piece of ground, facing a square, at the corner of Willow and Fifth-sts., in the center of Hoboken. It is 50 feet wide and 95 long, and will seat 800 person on the ground floor alone. The building was densely crowded. The Hibernian Laboring Society of Hoboken, Jersey City and New-York, and the Shamrock Benevolent Society, with their banners, the American flag and music, arrived in procession and took a place among the spectators. The Right Rev. Dr. Bayly, Bishop of Newark, presided at the ceremomes, and among the officiating clergy were the paster of the church, Rev. Anclergy were the paster of the church. Rev. Antoine Canvin, his curate, the Rev. Bart. Lefevre, the Rev. Father Quin of St Peter's of New-York, the Rev. Father McLallen of the Transfiguration, N. Y. the Rev. Father McLallen of the Transfiguration, N. Y. the Rev. Father O'Noil, &c., &c., &c. The ceremony of Decloration, which was performed first, differed in nothing from that we have described as having taxen place at St. Stephens, and other Churches in this City. The corner stone was then solemnly laid by Dr. Bayley. Under it was placed a far box containing a map of Hoboken, The Hoboxas Gazette, the bading newspapers of New-York and Jersey City, the University, French, The Francis Journal, the Azmenna, Italian), the Catholic Alumana of 1834, a medal of our Lady of Mercy of Kimini, the names of all the subscribers to the Church, and the following inscription:

A collection in sid of the building was taken up, and a French choir sung some hyums.

The Right Rev. Dr. Baytary then addressed the assemblages. He dwelt on the propriety of the rites which the Roman Catholic Church uses to the bonor and worship of Almighty God as a part of the solemn.

which the Roman Catholic Church uses to the boars and worship of Almighty God as a part of the solemn duty which men owe him as his creatures dependent on him for every blessing, and which should be recognized and evinces from the laying of the first stone of a house dedicated to him. That such was God's will be argued from the instances of Abraham, Solomon, and others. From the first the Catholic Church had been the great church builder, and was so still. The true principle underlying those facts was bright faith and ardeat piety; but still more the certainty of the real presence of God in those temples, where, as present, his worthippers honor with structures as a propriate as they can make them. The Bishop agreed that there can be no wership without sacrifice; that sacrifice alone washes away guilt and shows belief in Court of General Sessions.—The September term of the Court will commence at 11 o'clock this morning, Judge Booke presiding. DISCHARGE OF CAPT, MARSHALL.

The Commissioner this foreneous rendered a decision on the complaints in this Court against Capt. Marshall, of the ship Yorkshire, for alleged assealt with a dangerous weapon, and cruel and unusual punishment on the persons of Nicholas Cook and Thomas Cotton, two of the crew already referred to. He considers that there had been cruel treatment exercised by the inferior officers toward Cook, but that the weight of evidence does not show Capt. Marshall to have participated in or been cognizant of it. He also weight of evidence does not show Capt. Marshalt to have participated in or been cognizant of it. He also considers the testimony as to Cotton to be insufficient. The Commissioner ordered Capt. M. to be discharged, leaving it to the U. S. District autorney, he said, should be consider it proper, on further proof, to lay the case before the Grand Jury to meet to-morrow.

Six seamen of the ship John Rutledge, who refused to proceed, after shipping, in the vessel for Liverpool, and acted with violence, were examined and com-

BELGIUM.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.
The reizure in Beginn of an infernal machine has led to the arrest of several French political refugees. The Einle Belge says:

Several arrests, which seem connected with politics, have just been effected at Brusseis. M. Victor Considerant, well known as the head of the phalinsterian doctrine, has been locked up at the Petrist Carmes, accused, it is said, of having purchased arms for the purpose of organizing a plot against the Government.

Carmes, accused, it is said, of having purchased acms for the purpose of organizing a plot against the Government.

An arrest which surprises us still more, is that of M. Van der Eist, who fills a high post on the staff of the railway. It is related of this latter that the police seized at his office a package sent to him from Liege by a French political refugee, and in which it is said an infernal mechice and a revolving pistol were found. We have to add that M. Considerant declares that he purchased the arms with a view of sending them to Texas, where it is positive that he has organized a phalansterium; and M. Van der Elst, on his side, animus that he received the package only to oblige the refugee who sent it, and who informed him that it contained seap. On the other hand, says the Ladepeadance, we are assured that the person who sent the case to M. Van der Elst is not a French refugee. But besides M. Conderant, there is another French refugee arrested, as well as the person who sent the package, not an internal machine, but about half a score of small bombs of a particular kind. The manufactures of these bombs has also been arrested.

It is said that M. Bounct (del Argontice) formerly an officer in the French army, and who has been thy ing at Brussels for several months, but who is not a political refugee, lad ordered from M. Sanders, a manufacturer of arms certain incendiary tabes. This order is said to have been given in a letter inclosing a remittance of 60 frances on account. In this letter is said to be the following phrase: "As to M. Victor "Considerant, I prefer that you should speak to him "your-elf." This phrase, it appears is the only indication to connect M. Considerant with the plot, if plot there be.

The Independence Belge says:

tion to connect M. Considerant with the plot, if plot there be.

The Independence Belge says:

Fresh but very incomplete information has reached as on the subject of the recent arrests. What is certain is, that here persons have been arrested. M. Victor Considerant and M. Van der Elst have already been mentioned. The cres or box addressed to the latter, and which was seized at his office, did not contain an infernal bachine, but eleven little articles having the same claracter. They are in the form of small bombs, so constructed as to explode on whatever side they may fall on a hard surface. The other persons arrested are M. Brunet il Argientiere, or gard or attillery, who is said to have furnished the model of these bombs, Sanders the maker of them and Foundrin, a French teacher, who has been reading etrin, a French teacher, who has been re at Liege for several years, and who had undertaken to forward the case to M. Van der Elst.
